

Ability to Reason and Act Ethically

Criteria	Capstone 4	Milestone 3	Milestone 2	Benchmark 1
Develop a personal ethical code of conduct	Reflects on the impact of personal core beliefs in terms of relationships with others	Analyzes the relationship between personal core beliefs and / or decisions and relationships with others	Explains the origins of those core beliefs	Identifies personally held core beliefs
Apply a personal ethical code to different situations	Apply and reflect on the implications of using a particular ethical code in a specific personal situation	Analyzes how local ethical issues might apply in a range of specific situations	Explains the historical roots of local ethical issues from various perspectives	Identifies ethical issues occurring in personal experiences, media, or pop culture
Reflect on how ethical codes apply to global issues	Apply and reflect on the implications of using a particular ethical code in a global situation	Analyzes global ethical issues in terms of a variety of ethical codes	Explain historical roots of global ethical issues	Identifies ethical issues appearing in global contexts
Reflect on how ethical codes apply to community-based issues	Apply and reflect on the implications of using a particular ethical code in response to a community situation	Analyzes community issues in terms of a variety of ethical codes	Explains historical roots of community ethical issues	Identifies ethical issues occurring in the local community